Item 4 Advisory Business

Whealth Advisors, LLC (“wHealth Advisors” or “Adviser”) is a Limited Liability Company formed in the State of New Jersey in April 2019. wHealth Advisors’ owners are Dennis McNamara and John Munley Jr.

wHealth Advisors offers its clients comprehensive financial planning and investment management services, tax planning, tax preparation, estate planning, risk management, retirement planning, and business development services. When overseeing the management of a client’s account wHealth clients grant Advisor discretionary trading authority. When using discretionary trading authority Adviser will make trades without the client’s prior consent. The client may, at any time, impose reasonable restrictions, in writing, on the Adviser’s services.

wHealth Advisors is strictly a fee-only financial planning and investment management firm. The firm does not sell annuities, insurance, stocks, bonds, mutual funds, limited partnerships, or other commissioned products. wHealth is not affiliated with entities that sell financial products or securities. No commissions in any form are accepted. No finder’s fees are accepted.

wHealth Advisors does not serve as a law firm, accounting firm, or insurance agency, and no portion of Adviser’s services should be construed as legal, accounting, or insurance implementation services. Accordingly, Adviser does not prepare estate planning documents or sell insurance products. To the extent requested by a client, Adviser may recommend the services of other professionals for certain non-investment implementation purposes (i.e. attorneys, accountants, insurance agents, etc.). Clients are reminded that they are under no obligation to engage the services of any such recommended professional. If the client engages any unaffiliated recommended professional, and a dispute arises thereafter relative to such engagement, the client agrees to seek recourse exclusively from and against the engaged professional.

Typically, our clients got through a three-step process so that we can properly determine their financial needs and provide our services:

1. We begin with a no cost 30-60 minute exploratory meeting to understand a prospective client’s financial needs and concerns.
2. The next step is a Financial Physical: This is a one-time, two-four hour meeting to review up to three financial planning issues selected in advance by the client.
3. After the conclusion of the Financial Physical and depending upon the client’s needs, a client may engage wHealth Advisors for a comprehensive financial services engagement as set out in detail below. wHealth Advisors offers two types of ongoing comprehensive financial advisory service engagements. An open retainer engagement provides holistic comprehensive planning and investment management services along with tax preparation. Our other comprehensive engagement are a set of services specifically offered to doctors and dentists that includes ongoing financial planning and tax preparation services, and for some ongoing investment management services.

Each type of engagement is described below:

FINANCIAL PHYSICAL

This is a one-time, two- to four-hour meeting to review up to three financial planning issues selected in advance by the client. Adviser will make recommendations to the Client based on the issue identified. The client retains the responsibility for implementing Adviser's recommendations. No follow-up services are provided with the Financial Physical. If additional services are desired the client and wHealth Advisors will enter into a subsequent engagement for ongoing financial advisory services.

ONGOING COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR NON-DOCTORS

This service provides clients with comprehensive financial planning services and ongoing investment management services. Clients have scheduled meetings throughout the year to discuss their financial plan's implementation and updating.

Depending upon the client's needs, services in an open retainer engagement may include, but are not limited to:

- insurance review;
- inventory of assets;
- analysis of financial goals;
- portfolio analysis;
- development of an asset allocation strategy;
- tax planning;
- investment management;
- retirement planning; and
- estate planning reviews.

After the initial year of services, typical services include:

- goal setting review;
- annual tax planning
- investment review/update; recommendations for rebalancing of assets; and
- financial planning services as requested or needed by client.

Tax preparation services are also offered as a part of the services in an open retainer engagement.

Adviser takes discretionary trading authority in client accounts. The client's engagement agreement with Adviser authorizes the Adviser will full authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions involving the assets in the client's name held in the discretionary account.

ONGOING COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR DOCTORS

Specifically offered to medical professionals, wHealth Advisors offers two types of tiered financial planning and investment management services to these specific clients for their specific needs. These engagements also include tax preparation services.

There are two types of ongoing comprehensive engagements offered to residents, fellows, and those in post-doctoral programs that are in the beginning stage of saving for retirement.

- Light Planning: Adviser provides this engagement to individuals enrolled in a full-time post graduate medical or dental degree program, including any subsequent residency and fellowship program. Services in this engagement include among others, ongoing financial planning, recommendations for customized portfolios for the clients' investment accounts, annual rebalancing recommendations for the accounts, and access to Adviser on an as-needed basis. This engagement is offered for a term of up to two years.
- Basic Tier Planning: This engagement is typically for doctors in training and in their first two years as attendings that may have a negative net worth but can begin saving for retirement. Services in this engagement include the same services as the Light Planning engagement and also quarterly reviews and updates to the client's financial plan.

The following engagements are for attendings and post graduate medical professionals who are able to save for retirement and in need of comprehensive financial planning. The services in a comprehensive planning engagement also include ongoing investment management services.

- Premium Tier: Typically for new attendings without student loan debt (or using Public Service Loan Forgiveness (PSLF)) and mid-career established attendings who are seeking professional investment management. The engagement includes all the services provided in a limited planning services engagement along with ongoing investment management services. Also included are unlimited meetings and additional assistance with client's other professionals such as CPAs, attorneys, insurance brokers.)
- Concierge Tier: Typically for established attendings and retirees whose finances include complexities such as business ownership, trusts, multiple real estate investments, multi-generational transfers, etc. and have over $1,000,000 in investable assets.

When performing investment management services, Adviser takes discretionary trading authority in client accounts. The client's engagement agreement with Adviser authorizes the Adviser will full authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions involving the assets in the client's name held in the discretionary account.

Termination of Agreements

Clients may cancel any engagement at any time by providing written notice. If termination occurs within five days of entering the engagement Adviser will refund all of client's fee. After five days, upon termination Adviser will refund any unearned fee collected in advance or will invoice the client for earned but unpaid fees. For the open retainer and limited scope engagement for residents and fellows, the Adviser shall refund the pro-rated portion of the advanced advisory fee paid based upon the number of days remaining in the billing quarter.

Adviser reserves the right to stop work on any account that is more than 30 days overdue. In addition, Adviser reserves the right to terminate any engagement in which a client has willfully concealed or has refused to provide pertinent information about financial situation when necessary and appropriate, in Adviser's judgment, to providing proper advice.

Wrap Fee Accounts

wHealth Advisors does not participate in any wrap fee accounts.

Assets Under Management

Because this is wHealth Advisors' initial Brochure there are no assets under management at this time.

Item 5 Fees and Compensation

"FINANCIAL PHYSICAL" FEES

Adviser charges $1,000 for a Financial Physical, $800 if the client is referred by an existing client, or $500 for residents and fellows enrolled in a medical degree program. The fee is due after the consultation, payable in one installment by check, ACH and credit card. If a client enters into an ongoing comprehensive financial planning services engagement with Adviser within six months of completion of a Financial Physical, the Financial Physical fee paid by the client will be applied to the comprehensive ongoing engagement initial year's fee.

ONGOING, COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR NON-DOCTORS

Before engaging Adviser for its Ongoing Comprehensive Financial Planning for Non-Doctors Service, these clients are required to enter into an agreement setting forth the terms and conditions of the engagement and the fees and services to be provided.

The Adviser's negotiable, annual fee is calculated on the basis of the client's total income, assets, tax planning and preparation, and takes into account the scope of the services that the client requires and the overall complexity of the client's financial situation. The annual fee generally ranges between $5,000 and $60,000, paid on a quarterly basis, in advance, at the beginning of each calendar quarter. For agreements that begin in the middle of a calendar quarter, Adviser will prorate the fee accordingly. Adviser may, from time to time after the first year of the agreement, with thirty days advance notice adjust Client's annual fee based on the scope of the services rendered and the complexity of Client's financial situation; however, no increase in Client's fee will be effective without Client's prior consent and right to terminate.

Clients may elect to have the Adviser's Open Retainer fees deducted from their custodial account. The client must consent in advance to the direct deduction of fees from their account. The Adviser shall deduct its' fee and/or bill clients quarterly, in advance. On a quarterly basis, the Adviser will provide the client a billing summary showing all fees charged for the quarter, and clients are encouraged to compare the billing statement they receive from the account's custodian. In the limited event that the Adviser bills the client directly, the invoiced amount is due upon receipt of the Adviser's invoice and payable by check, ACH, or credit card.

Add-ons, and Miscellaneous Adjustments: wHealth Advisors will pass along any fee charged by a credit card processing company when a client elects to pay by credit card.

Tax preparation fees are typically included as part of the open retainer's annual fee; however, an additional hourly charge may be assessed at $150.00 per hour for preparing an amended return, and for additional returns prepared for dependents of the client.

Additional Costs and Expenses: Clients may incur certain fees as a result of and in addition to Adviser's services; Additional charges and fees will be imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties, such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes. Mutual funds and exchange-traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to the Advisor's fee. Adviser does not receive any of those fees.

ONGOING COMPREHENSIVE FINANCIAL PLANNING FOR DOCTORS

For these engagements, wHealth Advisors charges a flat fee, billed quarterly in advance according to the following fee schedule. Clients in a limited planning engagement pay their fees directly by check, ACH, or credit card. Clients with a comprehensive planning engagement that includes investment management services may elect to have their fees directly deducted from their custodial account.

Light Planning Fee:

- Flat Fee of $625 per quarter, billed in advance.

Basic Tier Planning Fee:

- Flat Fee of $1,250 per quarter, billed in advance

Premium Tier Planning Fee:

- Flat Fee of $2,500 per quarter, billed in advance

Concierge Tier Planning Fee:

- Flat Fee of $3,750 per quarter, billed in advance

Item 6 Performance-Based Fees and Side-by-Side Management

Adviser does not charge performance- based fees.

Item 7 Types of Clients

The Adviser's clients generally include: individuals and families, high net worth individuals, trusts, and small businesses.

Item 8 Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Method of Analysis

We primarily practice passive investment management. Our investment analysis is largely based on academic studies and research concerning the performance benefits of using a passive, index-oriented approach to building model portfolios combining multiple asset classes. Passive investing involves building portfolios that are comprised of various distinct asset classes. The asset classes are weighted in a manner to achieve a desired relationship between correlation, risk and return. Funds that passively capture the returns of the desired asset classes are placed in the portfolio. The funds that are used to build passive portfolios are typically index mutual funds or exchange traded funds. Passive investment management is characterized by low portfolio expenses, minimal trading costs and relative tax efficiency.

Investment Strategies

We believe that the three critical variables for investor success are asset allocation, diversification and appropriate behavior. We believe that investment performance cannot be predicted or controlled beyond ensuring the client has a properly diversified asset portfolio of quality equity index funds, rebalanced annually. We do not recommend individual stocks for client portfolios.

We typically adhere to the "buy and hold" philosophy. The following summarizes the investment strategies we follow:

- Long-term investments (funds not needed within five years) are invested in a diversified portfolio of equity and/or fixed income index funds to match an investors risk profile and upcoming liquidity needs. In certain circumstances, and where appropriate, we will purchase individual bonds.

- Short-term investments (funds needed within five years) are invested more conservatively. We utilize equity index funds, short to intermediate term bond funds, certificates of deposits, and/or cash and cash equivalents. In certain circumstances, and where appropriate, we will purchase individual bonds.
- We believe that the right time to make long-term equity investments is when the capital is available, and that the only right time to liquidate investments in a well-balanced portfolio is for planned needs.

Material Risks

Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear. In addition to having a well-managed, well-diversified portfolio, we educate clients to understand that volatility is a part of the investing cycle and that they must be willing and able to stay invested during long periods in order to reap the long-term rewards. Any substantial, unscheduled liquidations requested by the client during market downturns may result in permanent losses. The following are some of the risks a client may face:

Market Risk: Market risk involves the possibility that an investment's current market value will fall because of a general market decline, reducing the value of the investment regardless of the operational success of the issuer's operations or its financial condition.

Strategy Risk: The Adviser's investment strategies and/or investment techniques may not work as intended.

Small and Medium Cap Company Risk: Securities of companies with small and medium market capitalizations are often more volatile and less liquid than investments in larger companies. Small and medium cap companies may face a greater risk of business failure, which could increase the volatility of the client's portfolio.

Turnover Risk: At times, the strategy may have a portfolio turnover rate that is higher than other strategies. A high portfolio turnover would result in correspondingly greater brokerage commission expenses and may result in the distribution of additional capital gains for tax purposes. These factors may negatively affect the account's performance.

Interest Rate Risk: Bond (fixed income) prices generally fall when interest rates rise, and the value may fall below par value or the principal investment. The opposite is also generally true: bond prices generally rise when interest rates fall. In general, fixed income securities with longer maturities are more sensitive to these price changes. Most other investments are also sensitive to the level and direction of interest rates.

Legal or Legislative Risk: Legislative changes or Court rulings may impact the value of investments, or the securities' claim on the issuer's assets and finances.

Inflation: Inflation may erode the buying-power of your investment portfolio, even if the dollar value of your investments remains the same. Investing in the stock market carries some inherent risks that can be reduced with a well-diversified portfolio. These risks include: business risk, purchasing power risks, reinvestment risk, interest rate risk, market risk and exchange rate risk. For a more complete explanation of these risks as it applies to an investment, we encourage you to read each fund's prospectus.

Apart from the general risks outlined above which apply to all types of investments, specific securities may have other risks.

Bank Obligations including bonds and certificates of deposit may be vulnerable to setbacks or panics in the banking industry. Banks and other financial institutions are greatly affected by interest rates and may be adversely affected by downturns in the U.S. and foreign economies or changes in banking regulations.

Exchange Traded Funds prices may vary significantly from the Net Asset Value due to market conditions. Certain Exchange Traded Funds may not track underlying benchmarks as expected.

Investment Companies Risk. When a client invests in open end mutual funds or ETFs, the client indirectly bears its proportionate share of any fees and expenses payable directly by those funds. Therefore, the client will incur higher expenses, many of which may be duplicative. In addition, the client's overall portfolio may be affected by losses of an underlying fund and the level of risk arising from the investment practices of an underlying fund (such as the use of derivatives). ETFs are also subject to the following risks: (i) an ETF's shares may trade at a market price that is above or below their net asset value; (ii) the ETF may employ an investment strategy that utilizes high leverage ratios; or (iii) trading of an ETF's shares may be halted if the listing exchange's officials deem such action appropriate, the shares are de-listed from the exchange, or the activation of market-wide "circuit breakers" (which are tied to large decreases in stock prices) halts stock trading generally. The Adviser has no control over the risks taken by the underlying funds in which client's invest.

Item 9 Disciplinary Information

The Adviser has not been the subject of a disciplinary action.

Item 10 Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

Neither Adviser, nor its representatives, are registered or have an application pending to register, as a broker-dealer, as a futures commission merchant, commodity pool operator, a commodity trading advisor, or a representative of the foregoing.

Adviser has no other relationship or arrangement with a related person that is material to its advisory business.

Adviser does not receive, directly or indirectly, compensation from investment advisors that it recommends or selects for its clients.

Item 11 Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

The Adviser has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things, a copy of which is available upon request. All supervised persons of Adviser must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Neither the Adviser nor any related person of Adviser recommends, buys, or sells for client accounts, securities in which the Adviser or any related person of Adviser has a material financial interest.

The Adviser and/or representatives of the Adviser may buy or sell securities that are also recommended to clients. This practice may create a situation where the Adviser and/or representatives of the Adviser are in a position to materially benefit from the sale or purchase of those securities. This situation creates a conflict of interest. The Adviser has a personal securities transaction policy in place to mitigate this conflict.

The Adviser and/or representatives of the Adviser may buy or sell securities, at or around the same time as those securities are recommended to clients. This practice creates a situation where the Adviser and/or representatives of the Adviser are in a position to materially benefit from the sale or purchase of those securities. This situation also creates a conflict of interest. As indicated above, the Adviser has a personal securities transaction policy in place to mitigate this conflict.

Item 12 Brokerage Practices

Selecting Brokerage Firms

While we may recommend a custodian to a client, the client will decide and open their account in their name with their chosen custodian and will enter into an agreement directly with their chosen custodian. Client is not obligated to effect transactions through any broker-dealer recommended by Advisor. When a client selects the custodian, Advisor will not be obligated to conduct due diligence of the client's selected service provider, seek better execution services or prices from any provider, or aggregate client transactions for trade execution. Since your transactions are completed at a service provider of your choice, you may potentially pay more for your transaction or experience wider price spreads.

Soft Dollars

Custodians offer independent investment advisors various services which include custody of client assets, trade execution, clearance and settlement, etc. Our firm does not receive these benefits from a custodian.

Aggregating Securities Transactions for Client Accounts

Advisor does not aggregate trades.

Item 13 Review of Accounts

For clients in one of Advisor's ongoing comprehensive engagements, account reviews are conducted on a regular basis by Advisor's representatives. All such clients are advised that it remains their responsibility to advise the Advisor of any changes in their investment objectives and/or financial situation. All clients (in person or via telephone) are encouraged to review financial planning issues (to the extent applicable), investment objectives and account performance with the Advisor on an annual basis.

The Advisor may conduct account reviews on a periodic basis upon the occurrence of a triggering event, such as a change in client investment objectives and/or financial situation, market corrections and client request.

Clients are provided, at least quarterly, with written transaction confirmation notices and regular written summary account statements directly from the broker-dealer/custodian and/or program sponsor for the client accounts. The Advisor may also provide a written periodic report summarizing account activity and performance.

Item 14 Client Referrals and Other Compensation

Neither the Advisor, nor any of its supervised persons compensate any individual or are compensated for client referrals.

Item 15 Custody

All client assets are held at qualified custodians. Advisor does not take physical custody of clients' assets or provide custodial services; however, because the Client's independent custodian may directly debit their account(s) for the payment of advisory fees, Advisor is deemed to have constructive custody over client funds or securities.

Adviser is not affiliated with any custodian. The custodian does not supervise the advisor, its agents or activities. Clients will receive account statements from the independent, qualified custodian(s) holding their funds and securities at least quarterly. The account statements from custodian(s) will indicate the amount of Adviser's advisory fees deducted from their account(s) each billing period. Clients should carefully review account statements for accuracy. Adviser's reports may vary from custodial statements based on account procedures, reporting dates, or valuation methodologies or certain securities.

Furthermore, Adviser does not accept or forward client securities (i.e., stock certificates) erroneously delivered to our firm. Nor will Adviser collect advance fees of $500 or more for services that are to be performed six months or more into the future; and will not authorize an associate to have knowledge of a client's account access information (i.e., online 401(k), brokerage or bank accounts) if such access would allow physical control over account assets.

Item 16 Investment Discretion

For clients in one of Adviser's ongoing comprehensive engagements Adviser takes discretionary trading authority in client accounts. The client's engagement agreement with Adviser authorizes the Adviser will full authority to buy, sell, or otherwise effect investment transactions involving the assets in the client's name held in the discretionary account.

Item 17 Voting Client Securities

Adviser does not vote client proxies. Clients maintain exclusive responsibility for: (1) directing the manner in which proxies solicited by issuers of securities owned by the client shall be voted, and (2) making all elections relative to any mergers, acquisitions, tender offers, bankruptcy proceedings or other type events pertaining to the client's investment assets.

Clients will receive their proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodian. Clients may contact the Adviser to discuss any questions they may have with a particular solicitation.

Item 18 Financial Information

Registered investment advisors are required in this Item to provide clients with certain financial information or disclosures about their financial condition. Because Adviser has no financial condition that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients, has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding, and does not require prepayment of fees of $500 more than six months in advance Adviser is not required to provide such financial information.

Item 19 Requirements for State-Registered Advisers

The identity and formal education of the principal owners and management persons is described in Item 1 of this Brochure, and in Part 2B the supplement to this Brochure.

Neither Adviser nor any management person has been involved in an award or otherwise being found liable in an arbitration claim challenging damages in excess of $2,500 involving: an investment or investment-related business or activity; fraud, false statements, or omissions; theft, embezzlement, or other wrongful taking of property; bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; or, dishonest, unfair or unethical practices.

Neither Adviser nor any management person has been involved in an award or otherwise being found liable in a civil, self-regulatory organizations, or administrative proceeding involving: an investment or investment-related business or activity; fraud, false statements, or omissions; theft, embezzlement, or other wrongful taking of property; bribery, forgery, counterfeiting, or extortion; or, dishonest, unfair or unethical practices.

Neither Adviser nor any management person has any relationship or arrangement with any issuer of securities.

Designations in use:

CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™

Mr. McNamara has been a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ since 2007. The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 79,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 6 hours, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and

- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

AIF® ACCREDITED INVESTMENT FIDUCIARY

The AIF Designation certifies that the recipient has specialized knowledge of fiduciary standards of care and their application to the investment management process. To receive the AIF Designation, the individual must meet prerequisite criteria based on a combination of education, relevant industry experience, and/or ongoing professional development, complete a training program, successfully pass a comprehensive, closed-book final examination under the supervision of a proctor and agree to abide by the Code of Ethics and Conduct Standards.

In order to maintain the AIF Designation, the individual must annually attest to the Code of Ethics and Conduct Standards and accrue and report a minimum of six hours of continuing education. The Designation is administered by the Center for Fiduciary Studies, the standards-setting body of fi360.

Item 3 Disciplinary Information

Mr. McNamara has no information to disclose in relation to this Item.

Item 4 Other Business Activities

Mr. McNamara has no information to disclose in relation to this Item.

Item 5 Additional Compensation

Mr. McNamara has no information to disclose in relation to this Item.

Designations in use:

Mr. Munley has been a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER® since 2018. The CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™, CFP® and federally registered CFP (collectively, the “CFP® marks”) are professional certification marks granted in the United States by Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”).

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 79,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification in the United States.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete an advanced college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from a regionally accredited United States college or university (or its equivalent from a foreign university). CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include insurance planning and risk management, employee benefits planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 6 hours, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – Complete at least three years of full-time financial planning-related experience (or the equivalent, measured as 2,000 hours per year); and

- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Standards of Professional Conduct, a set of documents outlining the ethical and practice standards for CFP® professionals.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – Renew an agreement to be bound by the Standards of Professional Conduct. The Standards prominently require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services at a fiduciary standard of care. This means CFP® professionals must provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board’s enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.
